Governor Ducey and the Arizona Criminal Justice Commission
Announces Over $11 Million in Coronavirus Response Funding for Local, State, County, and Tribal Criminal Justice Agencies

Grants to Fund Efforts for Agencies to Prevent, Prepare, and Respond to Pandemic

Phoenix, AZ, Thursday, June 11, 2020 – Today, in partnership, Governor Ducey and the Arizona Criminal Justice Commission announced the awarding of over $11 million in funding to local, county, state, and tribal criminal justice agencies and non-profit agencies that provide services to the criminal justice system in Arizona as part of the Arizona Coronavirus Emergency Supplemental Funding Program. This grant funding was provided to the Arizona Criminal Justice Commission (ACJC) as part of the CARES Act authorized by Congress and sent through the U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Assistance.

"This funding is another critical step in getting necessary public health resources out to our criminal justice agencies that are on the frontline for COVID-19 across the State," said Governor Ducey. "This public health crisis continues to be a priority for Arizona and we have been working hard to find ways to act quickly to bring significant funding into our State to help those in need."

The Arizona Coronavirus Emergency Supplemental Funding Program focuses on both short-term, immediate criminal justice system needs - like personal protective equipment for agency personnel that are in direct contact with the public and supplies that prevent the spread of the coronavirus among personnel or facilities and long-term needs that will develop as a result of the virus.

ACJC received 62 applications from criminal justice and non-profit agencies from all levels of government from across Arizona amounting to over $33 million in funding requests. At its meeting on June 3, 2020, the Commission approved allocating the full amount of federal grant funds available, $11,187,184, to 54 agencies to meet a wide range of both short-term and long-term needs.

"We recognize these are trying times for many individuals and agencies across Arizona impacted by this pandemic and we are truly grateful to the U.S. Department of Justice for providing these funds to Arizona," stated Sheila Polk, Yavapai County Attorney and Chairwoman for the Arizona Criminal Justice Commission. "ACJC's role as the designated State Administering Agency for federal criminal justice funding allows us to understand where resource gaps exist and quickly provide this critical funding to our frontline criminal justice agencies so they can continue to serve our communities statewide."
